Sub: Classification of carpets and floor coverings having mixed composition in the Drawback Schedule.

I am directed to invite your attention to the above mentioned subject and to say that several representations have been received by the Board on the issue of classification of carpets having mixed composition under the Drawback Schedule, 2007-08. It has been represented that hand woven rugs/floor coverings made of 57% wool +25% cotton +18% viscose or 52% wool +13% nylon+ 35% cotton are being assessed by the Customs authorities under the Drawback Schedule entry 570299 ("others including coir mats") at the drawback rate of 2.5% instead of the entry number 570201 which covers carpets of wool or fine animal hair with a drawback of 12.5%. It has been further stated that in the Drawback Schedule, 2006-07 such items were being classified under the entry 570203 which read "others including of man-made fibers" with drawback rate of 9%. However, after creation of a separate entry for carpets and floor coverings of MMF in the Drawback Schedule, 2007-08 with a drawback rate of 12%, the carpets of mixed composition are being classified under the residuary entry 570299 which reads "others including coir mats" with a drawback rate of 2.5%. The Handloom Export Promotion Council (HEPC) has stated that carpets/floor coverings of wool contain other materials such as cotton, viscose, nylon etc. ranging between 10% to 40% and since the duty drawback rates are on ad valorem basis, any change in FOB value on account of composition or quality of goods would automatically determine the quantum of drawback. The HEPC has recommended that the carpets of mixed composition may be classified on the basis of predominant fibre.

2. The matter has been examined by the Board. It was clarified vide Circular No. 25/2007-Cus, dated 16.7.07 that hand knotted woolen carpets usually contain cotton yarn varying between 10% to 30% which is used as warp as well as backing and that these carpets may be allowed drawback @12.5% under Drawback Schedule S.No. 570101 which specifically covers knotted carpets of wool. Earlier, in case of export of carpets having 60% silk, 30% wool and 10% cotton, the Board vide letter No. 609/109/2005-DBK dated 11.7.2005 addressed to the Commissioner of Customs(Export), New Custom House, Delhi had clarified that the same may be classified as silk carpets. This clarification was issued on the basis that the major constituent material in the carpets in question was silk and not on the basis of any particular percentages of different constituent materials.
